101 I Love You Kisses

My girlfriend LOVES Hershey's kisses. So I bought a couple of big bags and counted out 101 of them (and ate any spares!). Next I cut out 101 small card heart shapes, which I then wrote 101 things I love about her on. For example, I love the way your eyes seem to shine when you smile, I love the way your lips taste, +99 more. A first I thought maybe I'd bitten off more than I could chew, and wondered if id make it to 101. But if you keep a small notepad with you in the day, you can jot down any ideas. Just remember special moments you've shared and favorite things to do together and hopefully you'll get there.

I then glued each heart to the base of each kiss and placed them all in a confetti filled box with a card on the top reading: "101 kisses for 101 things I love about you!" She loved it, but refused to ever eat them as they looked too good to eat.
